Law 8 - The Start and Restart of Play

Definition of Kick-Off

A kick-off is a way of starting or restarting play:

- At the start of a game.
- After a goal has been scored
 - the kick-off will be taken by the team that conceded the goal.
- At the start of the second half.

Procedure

Before the kick-off at the start of the game:

- The referee tosses a coin and the team that wins the toss decides which goal to attack in the first half or take the kick-off.
- In the second half of the game, the teams change ends and attack the opposite goals.
- The ball must be stationary on the centre mark.
- The referee gives a signal.
- The ball is in play when it is kicked and moves in any direction.
- If the kicker touches the ball again before it is touched by another player, an indirect free kick is given to the opposing team from the place of the infringement.

Kick-off

- A goal may be scored directly from a kick-off.
- After a team scores a goal, the kick-off is taken by the opponent.
 - All players, except the player taking the kick-off, must be in their half of the field.
 - The opponents of the team taking the kickoff must be 6 meters away from the ball until it is in play.

Infringements and Sanctions

If the kicker touches the ball a second time before it has touched another player, an indirect free kick is given to the opponent at the spot where the ball was touched for a second time.

For any other infringements of the kick-off procedure, the kick-off is retaken.

Definition of dropped ball:

A dropped ball is a method of restarting play when, while the ball is still in play, the referee is required to stop play temporarily for any reason not mentioned elsewhere in the Modified Laws of the Game. Some examples of this are an injury or interference by an outside agent.

Procedure:

• If when play was stopped:

- o The ball was inside the penalty/Goal area, the referee drops it for the defending team goalkeeper in their penalty area.
- o Is dropped to a player of the team that last touched the ball. The ball is dropped at its position when play was stopped.
- All other players must remain 3m from the ball until it is in play.
 - o Play restarts when the ball touches the ground.

The ball is dropped again:

- if it touches a player before it touches the ground.
- if the ball leaves the field of play, after it contacts the ground, without touching a player.
- If the ball enters the goal:
 - o if a dropped ball is kicked directly into the opponents' goal, a goal kick is awarded.
 - o if a dropped ball is kicked directly into the team's own goal, a corner kick is awarded.

INDOOR

Ball Contacts the Ceiling (Indoor)

Should the ball come into contact with the ceiling at any point during gameplay, a restart will be awarded to the opposing team at the touchline closest to where the ball contacted the ceiling.

Law 9 - Ball In and Out of Play

Ball Out of Play

The ball is out of play when:

- it has wholly crossed the goal line or touch line, whether on the ground or in the air.
- the play has been stopped by the referee.
- it touches a match official and remains on the field of play:
 - o A team starts a promising attack
 - o The ball goes directly into the goal
 - o The team in possession of the ball changes
 - o Play is restarted with a drop ball from the position of the ball when play was stopped

Ball in Play

The ball is in play at other times, including when:

- it rebounds off the goalpost, crossbar, or corner flag post and remains in the field of play.
- it touches a match official, but possession is maintained by the same team and does not start a promising attack.

Law 10 - The Method of Scoring

A goal is scored when the whole of the ball has crossed over the goal line between the goal posts and under the crossbar, provided that no infringement of the 7v7 Modified Laws of The Game has been previously committed by the team scoring the goal.

Law 11 - Offside

Offside Position

It is not an offence to be in an offside position. A player is in an offside position if:

- Any part of the head, body or feet is in the opponent's half (excluding the halfway line) and
- Any part of the head, body or feet is nearer to the opponent's goal line than both the ball and the second last opponent.

The hands and arms of all players, including the goalkeepers, are not considered. For the purpose of determining offside, the upper boundary of the arm is the line with the bottom of the armpit.

Offside Offence

A player in an offside position at the moment the ball is played or touched by a team-mate is only penalised on becoming involved in active play by:

- Interfering with play by playing or touching a ball passed or touched by a team-mate or
- interfering with an opponent by preventing them from playing or being able to play the ball by clearly obstructing the opponents line of vision, challenging an opponent for the ball, attempting to play the ball which is close when this action impacts an opponent or making an obvious action with clearly impacts the ability of an opponent to play the ball.
- Gaining an advantage by playing the ball or interfering with an opponent when it has rebounded or been deflected off the goalpost, crossbar, match official or opponent, or been deliberately saved by any opponent.

No Offence

There is no offside if a player receives the ball from:

- A goal kick
- A throw-in
- A corner kick

Offences and Sanctions

If an offside offence occurs, the referee awards an indirect free kick where the offence occurred, including if it is in the players own half of the field of play.

Law 12 - Fouls and Misconduct

A direct free kick is awarded to the opposing team if a player commits any of the following offences:

- kicks or attempts to kick an opponent
- trips or attempts to trip an opponent
- strikes or attempts to strike an opponent
- tackles an opponent from behind to gain possession of the ball
- makes contact with an opponent before touching the ball
- jumps at an opponent
- charges an opponent
- pushes an opponent
- holds an opponent
- spits at an opponent
- Commits a handball offence (except for the goalkeeper within their penalty area)

The direct free kick is taken from where the offence occurs.

If the defending team commits an offence inside their own penalty area, a penalty kick is awarded.

An indirect free kick is awarded if a player:

- playing in a dangerous manner
- impedes the progress of an opponent without any contact being made
- is guilty of dissent, using offensive, insulting or abusive language and/or action(s) or other verbal offences
- prevents the goalkeeper from releasing the ball from the hands or kicks or attempts to kick the ball when the goalkeeper is in the process of releasing it.
- Commits any other offence, not mentioned in the rules, for which play is stopped to caution or send off a player

An indirect free kick is awarded if a goalkeeper, inside their penalty area, commits any of the following offences:

- Touches the ball with the hand/arm after releasing it and before it has touched another player
- Touches the ball with the hand/arm after it has deliberately been kicked to the goalkeeper by a team-mate
- Touches the ball with the hand/arm after receiving it directly from a throw-in taken by a team-mate

Goalkeepers

Goalkeepers may handle the ball with their hand/arm inside their own penalty area if no infraction has been committed as stated above.

Goalkeepers have eight (8) seconds to release the ball from their hands once under control and not contested by the opposing players.

The referee will count the first three seconds silently, then indicate visually and verbally the final 5 seconds. If the ball is not released clearly by the goalkeeper within 8 seconds, a corner kick is awarded to the opposing team at the closest corner flag to where the offence occurs.

Advantage

Advantage may be applied if a foul is committed against the opponent, but the team in possession will benefit from play continuing.

Cautionable Offences

- Delaying the restart of play
- Dissent by word or action
- Entering, re-entering or deliberately leaving the field of play without the referees permission
- Failing to respect the required distance when play is restarted at a free kick, corner kick, dropped ball or throw-in
- Persistent offences
- Unsporting behaviour

Send-Off Offences

- Denying the opposing team a goal or an obvious goal scoring opportunity by committing a hand ball offence

- If an indirect free kick is kicked directly into the team's own goal, a corner kick will be awarded to the opposing team.

Free Kicks Taken from Inside a Team's Own Goal Area

The ball is considered in play when it is kicked and clearly moves. All opponents must remain outside the penalty area and 6m from the free kick.

Law 14 - Penalty Kick

A penalty kick is awarded if a player commits an offence inside their penalty area. If no penalty spot is present, the penalty kick is to be taken from the middle of the parallel line at the top of the goal area. The players other than the kicker and goalkeeper must be:

- behind the penalty mark,
- inside the field of play,
- outside the penalty area

Law 15 – Throw-In

A throw-in is awarded to the opponents of the player who last touched the ball when the whole of the ball passes over the touchline, on the ground or in the air.

A goal cannot be scored directly from a throw-in:

- If the ball enters the thrower's goal a corner kick is awarded

Procedure

At the moment of delivering the ball, the thrower must:

- Stand facing the field of play

- Throw the ball with both hands from behind and over the head
- From the point where the ball left the field of play

All opponents must be at least 2 metres from the point on the touchline where the throw-in is to be taken.

The ball is in play when it enters the field. If the ball touches the ground before entering, the throw-in is retaken by the same team from the same position. If the throw-in is not taken correctly, it is retaken by the opposing team.

Law 16 – Goal Kick

- The kick may be taken from any point in the goal area
 - o The ball is in play when it is kicked and clearly moves
 - o All opponents must be outside the penalty area and 6m from the free kick.
- The kicker may not touch the ball a second time until it has been touched by another player. Should the kicker touch the ball a second time, an indirect free kick is awarded to the opponent from where the second touch occurred when the second touch is outside the goal area. Indirect free kicks to the attacking team for an offence inside the opponent's goal area are taken from the nearest point on the goal area line, which runs parallel to the goal line.
- A goal may be scored against the opposing team directly from a goal kick.

Law 17 - Corner Kick

- A corner kick will be awarded to the attacking team when the whole of the ball crosses the goal line, in the air or on the ground, when last touched by a player on the defending team.
- The kick may be taken from any point in the corner arc, or within 1m of the corner of the field, if no arc is marked.
